Dear Sirs

Re: Formation of Simplex Westpile Limited

I am writing to inform you that Westpile Limited and Simplex Foundations Limited have now merged to form a new business, Simplex Westpile Limited.

A review of our businesses identified the complementary skills between the two companies and this has led to the decision that we can best serve our clients by bringing both under one banner.

Both companies have been operating within the Bachy Soletanche group of companies thus all employees are familiar with the common management, safety, quality and environmental standards and systems operated by all group companies.

Simplex Westpile will continue to operate throughout the UK providing a high standard of geotechnical solutions to our clients. The key staff with whom you have been used to working remain within the new business.

The details for the new company are provided below.
